

AI that works for senior living

Where Yardi Virtuoso Enterprise shows up in daily workflows

AI matters when it makes your team's work easier and your residents' lives better. Virtuoso Enterprise for Senior Living brings together community operations, property management, clinical care, sales and analytics in a single connected system, with AI working across the entire platform.

Because all your leasing, care and operations data already lives in the connected platform, there's no migration, disconnected AI layer or new systems to learn. That means less manual work, more relevant information at the right moment and better decisions.

77% of organizations that successfully implemented AI said in a Gartner survey that workflow integration was the primary reason for their success.¹
